

Liliun tigrinum Mind Maps

General Keynote Rubrics

Mind maps present materia medica logically and visually. Symbols and illustrations familiar from the poems keep the specific remedy in mind as you explore the rubrics. Maps are colour-coded to reinforce repertory relationships.

This booklet includes Lil-tig General Keynote rubrics.

Focus on one page of the map at a time until the patterns and colour-codes fix themselves into your visual memory. Begin at the core and click the links to reveal more detailed and specific symptoms. Change to a different activity or take a break for a while, and then study another section. Return to the map a day or so later and see how much you can remember.

Do visit www.enjoylearninghomeopathy.co.uk for more learning materials on this and other remedies.

Key:

In common with homeopathic practice the following mean:

< = worse for; << = much worse for; <<< = very much worse for

> = better for; >> = much better for; >>> = very much better for

+ = particularly

A. = after; B. = before; D. = during; W. = with a.m. = morning; p.m. = afternoon

h. = hours (24-hour clock, e.g. 14h. = 2 p.m.)

Sources:

The main source for the rubrics in these maps is Frederik Schroyens, Synthesis Repertory supported by other established texts and Dr English's observations over his career in homeopathic practice and teaching.
